

'Wallace Or War' Third Party Slogan

BY JACK BELL

Convention Hall, Philadelphia, July 24 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace today becomes the presidential candidate of the Progressive Party—and his supporters said U. S. voters have a choice between "Wallace and war."

With his acceptance speech tonight, the former vice president and cabinet member formally tosses his hat into 1948's biggest political race.

Wallace will be battling President Truman and Governor Thomas E. Dewey on a platform his keynote speaker told cheering, singing and booing delegates is "what the people demand, and what the people shall have."

Plenty of Singing

Keynote Charles P. Howard, Iowa Negro editor, laid it on the line last night. He struck hard at both Republicans and Democrats, high prices, foreign policy, Congress, "Jim Crowism."

Urging America's "plain people" to join the fight against the oldline political parties, Howard said the choice was "Wallace or war."

And when Wallace accepts the Progressive Party banner tonight in Shibe Park, by his side will be Senator Glen Taylor, Idaho Democrat. Taylor left the ranks headed by President Truman to become the New Party's number two man—he'll accept the Progressive vice-presidential nomination.

Back of the Wallace-Taylor ticket will be a national committee expected to be headed by former Governor Elmer Benson of Minnesota. Also, a singing, crusading band of delegates who showed last night more vocal power per man—and woman—than the Republicans or Democrats earlier were able to register in Philadelphia's overworked and hot Convention Hall.

Pinks Prove Plague
Wallace is to be formally nominated.

States - Rights Faction
Has Secret Meeting

BY C. W. GILMORE
Atlanta, July 24 (AP)—Southern leaders of the states rights faction in the Democratic party met here today for a top-secret strategy conference.

Their purpose was to find a way to beat President Truman and his program of civil rights—a plank in the National Party's platform that resulted in a southern political revolt.

Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, their choice for president to fly in this morning to meet his running mate, Gov. Fielding L. Wright of Mississippi, who arrived last night.

Today's meeting is to be held behind doors closed to the public and newspapermen.

Thurmond was optimistic about his campaign yesterday. He is convinced, he said, that there is strong southern sentiment for the ticket he heads.

"If the southern people will just stick together," he declared, "they have the finest opportunity since the war between the states to gain the respect of the nation."

Berlin Food Lift Stepped Up By U.S.A.

America Can't Be Chased
Out Of German Capital

BY ELTON C. FAY

Washington, July 24 (AP)—A plan to double the supplies being flown to Soviet-blockaded Berlin gave Russia today—in the words of Gen. Lucius D. Clay—"pretty good evidence" that Americans will refuse to be chased from the German capital.

The American commander in Germany announced the plan to boost food and fuel shipments at a news conference yesterday, following two days of talks with the highest U. S. policy-making officials, including President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall.

Clay's departure for Berlin to start putting the plan into operation coincided almost exactly with the departure of Charles E. Bohlen, state department counselor, for London to confer with U. S. Ambassador Lewis Douglas.

Bohlen and Douglas were expected to discuss drafting of a new note to Russia protesting the tight blockade imposed on all surface transportation between western-occupied Berlin areas and the occupied zones of western Germany.

Clay subscribed heartily to President Truman's assertion that the chances for peace are excellent. While he explained that he didn't want to minimize "the seriousness of the situation" in Germany, Clay declared:

"I don't think there is anybody in this world that is out looking for war at this moment, and if the people and the countries involved don't want war it looks to me like we have an excellent chance of finding a solution which is peaceful."

Asked "do you include the Russians in that?" Clay responded: "I do indeed. I don't think they want war."

Wife, 34, Deserted For Blonde, Age 13

Georgia Beer Salesman
Accused Of Bigamy

Atlanta, July 24 (AP)—A charge of bigamy has been placed against a teen-age north Georgian accused of deserting his 34-year-old wife and their two children for wife No. 2—a comely 13-year-old blonde.

Alfred E. Leonard, a 19-year-old beer salesman of Rome, Ga., was arrested yesterday, city detectives said, on complaint of the younger wife's father.

The father, reported city detectives R. C. Pendley and W. M. Blackwell, reported to police that his daughter, Joan Haney, had married a man "who already has a wife and two children."

Said Leonard in speaking of his attractive child bride:

"Even if I have to spend five years in jail, I'll get out after serving my time and I'll go straight to the one I love. These prison bars can't keep us apart forever."

Joan tearfully promised to "stick by" Alfred, a navy veteran. Alfred told police he never loved his first wife, Mrs. Ruby Leonard of Rome, whom he married soon after leaving the navy.

Joan and Leonard have been living with Joan's mother, Mrs. Mary Lou Phillips, since their marriage July 14.

"I want the young ones to be happy," Mrs. Phillips said.

Black Won't Give Up Investigation Of Campaign Funds

Lansing, July 24 (AP)—Attorney General Eugene F. Black today has pledged himself to continue his probe of Republican party fund-raising although he was bitter about what he claimed were attempts to hamper his investigation by governor.

Black told reporters Friday that his investigators were operating as "flying squadrons."

"I have to move them around fast," he said, "in order to get results and keep them ahead of you fellows."

Black charged that four auditors he intended to use for the investigation had been taken away from him "obviously on orders of the top office."

Home in Detroit Looted of $15,000

Detroit, July 24 (AP)—Police today sought burglars who robbed a Detroit home of a reported $15,000 in valuables.

The theft was reported by Mrs. Adele Saffady, 30, wife of Thomas F. Saffady. She said a rear door of the house had been pried open.

Mrs. Saffady said she had been vacationing up north since her husband left on a business trip Thursday. She returned Friday.

The loot, she added, included $12,000 worth of jewelry, two checks for $1,000 each and $1,000 in cash.

Airman Who Bombed UN Office Gives Up

Dynamite Stick On Wire
Used For Low Blast

New Haven, Conn., July 24 (AP)—Police coming here today for the ex-army flier who bombed U. N. headquarters from the air may have to wait to take him into custody even though he says he is anxious to go back to "finish my fight for world peace."

Stephen J. Supina, 36, of Ashford, probably was the most widely sought man on the eastern seaboard until he calmly walked into the New Haven Register newsroom yesterday afternoon, a little more than 24 hours after he let loose a blast in front of the main U. N. building.

The man who, as a B-17 turret gunner, had helped drop tons of T. N. T. on Germany said he used a one-pound stick of dynamite to jar the U. N. He attached dynamite to 150 feet of wire which he trailed from the cockpit of the small plane he had rented in Willimantic, Supina related, and touched it off with an electric spark from two flashlight batteries as he flew low over the U. N. buildings.

He intended to harm no one, Supina insisted. Except for a guard who complained that the concussion gave him chest and stomach pains, the blast caused no injury.

Sabotage Plans Set If U. S. Gets In War, Rep. Hartley Warns

Washington, July 24 (AP)—Chairman Hartley (R-N. J.) of the House labor committee said today American Communist union leaders have set up "complete plans for sabotage" in the event of war.

"I don't want to work up any war scare," he told reporters, "but those are the facts."

Hartley said he could not disclose any details at this time. But he said his information "just received" will be aired fully at committee hearings scheduled to open August 4.

Early targets of the probe, he said, will probably include labor organizations in Chicago and Detroit, which he described as "hotbeds of Red unionism."

Rubber Checks Ruin Used Car Deal For Resident of Detroit

Detroit, July 24 (AP)—A scheme to buy a used car with a bad check bounced back at Vernon Dobson yesterday when he found he had received another bad check in selling it.

Dobson told Recorder's Judge George Murphy he had only two dollars in his bank account when he evolved the plan. He gave an auto dealer a check for $2,000 for the car; then hurried out to sell it before the check could be cleared.

A buyer paid $2,950. But when he arrived at the bank to put the money in his account, he found the check was worthless.

He was placed on probation for two years after pleading guilty to a charge of passing a bad check.

Insanity Claimed By Man Who Threw Child To Her Death

Cincinnati, July 24 (AP)—Harry Herbert Robertson, 33, of Richmond, Va., charged with murder in the death of eight-year-old Patricia Jackson, today pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

The Jackson child was hurled to her death July 16 from the Western Hills viaduct.

Three criminal court alienists were named to examine Robertson. Robertson grabbed the Jackson child while she was playing with other children and threw her from the viaduct. He told police he could hear someone yelling "Yellow, yellow" as he committed the act.

U. N. DYNAMITER — Stephen J. Supina, 36, of Ashford, Conn., has been identified as the ex-army flier who flew over United Nations headquarters in New York Thursday and exploded a home-made dynamite bomb. He said he did it to wake up the U. N. for the cause of world peace.

A posse of deputies and townsmen immediately began search of this swampy area, 35 miles southeast of New Orleans. Bloodhounds from the state prison at Angola, La., about 90 miles north-west of New Orleans, were reported enroute to Violet.

The thin, brown-haired boy left home yesterday morning to visit Mrs. Joe Sartalamaccia, a neighbor. He ate lunch there and then left for home.

Later his mother called him for his bath and became alarmed when informed he had left for home about three hours before.

Sheriff's deputies found the boy in high grass 300 yards behind the Sartalamaccia home.

Beside the body was a two-foot tree limb, broken in half and matted with bloody grass. The grass was trampled, indicating a struggle.

Prices Increased
On Passenger Cars
By General Motors

Detroit, July 23 (AP)—General Motors Corp. today announced price increase of about eight percent in all passenger cars.

The increases will become effective Monday.

President C. E. Wilson blamed "rising wages and material costs."

GM recently granted the CIO United Auto Workers an 11 cent an hour wage increase geared to the cost of living. It is to be adjusted—probably upward—in September.

It was the first general price increase by General Motors since August, 1947.

Milwaukee, July 24 (AP)—A former show girl who ran for mayor of Milwaukee last spring and came in eleventh now is candidate for Congress.

And, Mrs. Ruth Foster Froemming says, she made up her mind to run as a Republican because of a picnic she gave.

Ten of her guests were Republicans, eight were Democrats. They all wanted her to run.

Mrs. Froemming, 50-year-old mother of four who was in the follies in 1919, will be running in the fourth district (Milwaukee).

Rift Closed In Michigan GOP Ranks

Democrats Have Three In Race For Governor

BY JAMES A. O. CROWE

Lansing, July 24 (AP)—Governor Sigler had the Republican nomination for a second term in his pocket today after withdrawals of Recorder's Judge W. Mc Kay Skillman of Detroit and Lieut. Gov. Eugene C. Keyes.

Likewise, Keyes was unopposed for the party's nomination to a second successive term as lieutenant governor after Secretary of State Fred M. Alger Jr., withdrew his petitions, and the petitions of State Senator William C. Vandenberg (R-Holland) were ruled insufficient.

In a prepared statement, Keyes said he withdrew from the governor's race because of the prospects "of a bitter primary" and his feeling that the contest between him and Sigler would result in "wounds that could not heal before the election in November, if ever."

Works For Harmony
He said he would run again for lieutenant governor "with the purpose of bringing about harmony and peace in a party which is torn by dissension and strife x x x."

Governor Sigler said, "naturally, I am pleased with having no opposition in the primaries. This will develop a United front for Republican victory at the November election."

Sigler predicted the party would "receive the greatest majority x x x in the history of our commonwealth."

In another prepared statement, issued jointly with Keyes, Alger said, "it is understood that there has been certain friction between the lieutenant governor and the administration. We have agreed, however, to make an honest attempt to resolve such differences x x x."

"For party harmony, therefore x x x, I have agreed to withdraw myself as a candidate for the lieutenant governorship. The lieutenant governor in return has agreed to withdraw his candidacy for the governorship."

Petition Not Valid
Vandenberg at the same time announced that he was out of the lieutenant governor's race. Alger had the unpleasant duty of ruling officially as secretary of state that his opponents' petitions had too few valid signatures and in some cases were not properly notarized. The invalid signatures carried no addresses. Alger said his ruling was confirmed by the attorney general's office.

To smooth the way a little, however, Vandenberg's opposition for his renomination to the Senate seat in the 23d district, Lawrence

Cherry Nose Gioe Back In Prison As Violator Of Parole

Atlanta, Ga., July 24 (AP)—Charles Gioe, former Capone gangster known as "Cherry Nose," today entered the Federal penitentiary to serve a sentence for parole violation.

Warden W. H. Hiatt said Gioe was taken into the penitentiary at 9 a. m. (EST).

U. S. marshals served a parole violation warrant on Gioe in his Chicago hotel suite yesterday. "Cherry Nose" was a member of an extortion ring convicted in New York in 1944 of victimizing motion picture industry leaders.

Four of the five ring leaders sentenced to serve 10 years were released on paroles last Aug. 11 after serving three and one half years of their sentences.

Juveniles Wreck Beach Concession

Six youngsters ranging in age from 10 to 14 reported to the city chief of police this morning after they were caught by yacht harbor authorities while raiding the concession stand at the bathing beach.

The entrance door to the stand was wrecked by the children. Candy and other wares were found scattered all over, and in the possession of the children.

Over $100 damage was reported. All six will be remanded to the authority of the probate judge.

The children were caught at 9:30 by yacht harbor attendants, and brought to the police station.

Drive For Safety Continues In City

"Take it easy—live longer!" This is the advice of the Delta County Insurance Association in emphasizing speed as an enemy of safety on our streets and highways.

"Speed kills—take it easy" is the official slogan of the program this group is sponsoring as part of a continuing traffic safety education campaign coordinated in this city by the police department and sponsored nationally by the National Safety Council.

"Speeding usually doesn't save enough time to be worth what it costs," said Chief Ettenhofer. "On the cost side, it takes more gasoline, oil and rubber to drive at high speeds. And, of course, your car wears out faster. Those are costs in dollars and cents. Then the chance of getting a ticket for speeding is another potential nick in your budget.

"But the highest cost of speed is in deaths and injuries in traffic accidents. Last year 13,000 persons were killed in accidents in which speed was a contributing factor. For speed is a factor in about two out of every five fatal motor vehicle accidents.

"And yet, in return for these risks, speeding—especially on city streets—shortens travel time very little. This has been demonstrated many times. So why take a chance? Speed kills—so take it easy."

How to get where you're going safely is summed up as follows:

1. Start in time.
2. Observe the signs, signals and pavement markings. They are there for your protection.
3. Obey legal and common sense speed limits.
4. Keep car under control so you can stop in time.
5. Slow down before you get to curves and intersections.
6. Keep a safe stopping distance between your car and the car ahead.
7. Slow down at sundown.

FAIR PREMIUMS TOTAL $20,000

U. P. Exposition Will Be Held Aug. 17-22

More than $20,000 will be offered in premiums for exhibitors at the Upper Peninsula State Fair in Escanaba Aug. 17-22, Harold P. Lindsay, secretary-manager, has announced.

A total of $17,356 was offered in premiums and prizes at the U. P. State Fair in 1942 and these have been increased this year by additions to several exhibit departments.

A new classification has been added in the dairy cattle department for four-year olds so that these cows no longer will be required to compete with older animals.

In addition the double entry plan has been instituted for the first time this year. Under this system an exhibitor may enter two head of cattle in the same classification and qualify for two prizes in that classification. The only requirement is that there must be competition in the class to qualify for more than one award.

The Horse, Sheep and Swine Departments at the Fair this year have been opened to unrestricted competition. Dairy and beef cattle, however, will continue to be restricted to Upper Peninsula entries.

Increased awards also are offered in the Horse Pulling Contests, and special provisions are being made for the exhibiting of county 4-H Club herds.

Plastic Wrapping For Produce Helps Regulate Moisture

Los Angeles, July 23 — A new plastic wrapper for fruits, vegetables, tobacco and other products, thin as paper and transparent as cellophane, was described here today to the American Chemical Society. The chemicals used in the plastic films are made entirely from petroleum, and the films owe their preservative properties to their moisture resistance.

The chemicals used are known as S-polymer. The films keep moisture in or out. In a test with the new wrapper, S-polymer-wrapped oranges lost only one-tenth their weight in a 28-week period, while unwrapped oranges had shrunk to less than half their original weight in the same period.

The report on the new wrapping material was presented by W. A. Fairclough of the Enjay Company, New York. Co-authors were Raymond G. Newberg and J. R. Briggs of Esso Laboratories, Linden, N. J.

Free Spending Slackens

UPPER PENINSULA hotels, resorts and tourist cabins are still enjoying good patronage, but the operators report that vacationists are becoming more dollar conscious. The rising cost of living is beginning to have its effect. The free and easy spending era is nearing its end.

The American Automobile Association reports there are more motor vacationists on the road this summer than in 1947, but the travelers are trying to hold down their vacation costs. Rates at summer hotels and cabins, which climbed in 1946 and 1947, are beginning to level off. But prices for meals, reflecting the higher costs of meat and other food items, are higher this summer than last.

Perhaps, the new trend is a good thing for the country. Careless spending encourages high prices, inferior merchandise and poor service. Now that the public has become choosy and careful, it will be the business establishment that offers good service at reasonable prices that will receive the patronage.

Quality and service again will be more than mere advertising slogans. They will have some meaning.

Comic Books Again

LITTLE Tommy Harrington, only 11, was envious of the other children in Martinez, Calif., who had money to spend. His childish mind reasoned that he was entitled to some, too. In this kind of reasoning he was not much different than many grown-ups who think the world owes them a living, whether they do a tap of work or not.

The kind lady in the neighborhood store, near where Tommy lived, used to give him soda pop and comic books for nothing because he was a nice, little boy. But Tommy also wanted money.

Reading one of the comic books one day he saw how gangsters use guns and masks to extort easy money from those who have it. Unfortunately, Tommy, like many other youngsters, did not read the picture story to the end. He failed to note that, like in all comic books, the criminals were captured. As has been the case with many juvenile readers of comic books, Tommy didn't get the moral, "Crime does not pay."

So, Tommy got a gun, tied a handkerchief over his face, and went to the neighborhood store.

"Stick 'em up. This is a holdup," Tommy ordered the kind storelady, in typical comic book gangster fashion.

The woman recognized Tommy, and thought he was merely playing cops and robbers. "Oh, that doesn't fool me, I know who you are," she told Tommy.

Tommy shot. The kind storelady dropped to the floor. She was dead.

All Is Not Well In Russia

INFORMATION leaking over, under and through the iron curtain of Eastern Europe indicates that the Big Fourteen in the Russian Kremlin at Moscow are having a hard time holding their millions in leash.

The devaluation of the ruble was a cardinal sign of trouble. Calling in the Russian paper currency and issuing new money at the rate of one ruble for ten was a brazen means of robbing the rank and file of what little they possessed. The Russian laborers and peasants took it as they always have taken orders from above—lying down.

The powers of resistance to tyranny are weak in a people who have been enslaved for centuries. The people of Russia have been under the thumb of autocracy for so long that they have forgotten all the powers of self-government, if indeed they ever had any. Tolstoy has said that the Russian people are a naturally gifted but thwarted race. He made it clear that inactivity is the metaphysical principle of the average Russian.

The Russian peasant may be stung into activity by the Soviet program, but it will take a lot of drumming and drubbing to lift him out of his habitual mental stupor. The Arctic tundras, the limitless, cheerless plains and the southern deserts of dust have tragically demonstrated earth's power over the human spirit.

Expert American and German instructors trained thousands of young Russian farmers for two years before the war. These farmers went out to work on the collective farms, with hundreds of tractors and other pieces of imported American farm machinery. What was the result?

They mishandled machines and tools so terribly that tractors spent about 50 minutes in the repair shops for every hour of service. Then were remain apathetic, listless, vacuous. These trained overseers were not able to produce even the usual amounts of wheat, let alone show an increase. Some of the kulaks—the better farmers—did get more appreciable results, but they have either been murdered by the government or exiled to Siberia.

Evidence piles up that Russia is still a land of terror and suffering beyond belief. Why any American should want to live there, or to introduce such a system of high misgovernment into this country, is beyond comprehension. The Russian rulers do everything in their power to prevent their people from informing themselves as to what is going on in the rest of the world. They are equally interested in keeping foreigners out of Sovietland. If we knew the whole truth of what is going on behind the curtain, we would be amazed and shocked. The truth will out some day. When it does come through the admirers of Russia in this country are going to be filled with shame and horror over the deeds done in that stricken land in the name of justice, liberty and democracy.

Buechner at Flint

APPOINTMENT of Frank R. Buechner, formerly of Gladstone, as city manager at Flint has been announced by Mayor Edward J. Viall of that city.

Buechner, a career man in the field of municipal administration, will succeed George Gundry, who became manager at Flint after failing of reelection as auditor general of Michigan. When he became manager in his home town, Gundry had no previous experience in municipal management and no particular training for the position. He obtained the manager's position because he was an adept office seeker.

Buechner went into the municipal administration field as a profession. About twenty years ago, Buechner was manager at Gladstone. From Gladstone, he went to bigger municipalities, including Superior, Wis., and Hamilton, O.

Buechner has never been the politician-type of city manager. His policy has been to hew to the line, and in the pursuance of this policy he has become the target of selfish interests in some cities where he has served in recent years. At Hamilton, O., for instance, the gambling interests wanted things run their own way. City Manager Buechner wanted to run Hamilton as a decent, clean city. Eventually, he was forced to resign.

Going to a large city like Flint, City Manager Buechner doubtless knows he will encounter new political difficulties. But apparently he is determined to give Flint the kind of efficient municipal administration he believes it is entitled to.

The professional city manager thinks only of doing the right kind of a job in municipal administration. He cannot compromise on his principles. He cannot try to satisfy politicians and selfish interests merely to safeguard his own paycheck.

When he feels his usefulness is at an end in a particular community because of conditions beyond his control, he chooses to move elsewhere and give some other city the benefits of his training, experience and ability in the field of local government.

City management is now a profession.

LET THE BEE POPULATION GROW

(Kansas City Star)
Here at last is a proposition on which persons and parties of all political shadings can stand united. It is that the nation needs more money bees, millions more of them. The National Geographic society says so and the judgment of that nonpartisan body on such topics should be beyond cavil or question.

A statement from the society describes the bee as a work horse of the insect world. For one thing, bees furnish ample quantities of honey and beeswax. But even more important, the report points out, it's up to these little buzzers to pollinate five-sixths of all the fruit, flower blossoms, alfalfa, clover and other plants vital to livestock nourishment. The trouble is that the geographic group has discovered a shortage of bee pollinators in every state of the Union. With more of them there would be greater production in even the most fertile areas.

So, in a nation where the bee is universally a creature of good repute, there should not be the least objection to increasing its numbers. We leave it to the bees and their hive keepers to get busy on a multiplication program. The people, they may be sure, are 100 per cent in favor of having plenty of bees to go around.

Take My Word For It

Frank Colby

WEEKEND FORUM

Our weekend forum begins with this question from E. M., of Washington, D. C. "How is 'tangerine' pronounced? Is the 't' hard because the fruit's name derives from the word 'tang'?"

Answer: No. The tangerine, a small, loose skinned orange, takes its name from Tanger, seaport and once in Northwest Africa. Tangerine is pronounced tan-juh-REEN.

R. L. J., Oak Ridge: Recently you stated: "To the best of my knowledge, 'w' is a vowel in English only when it is part of a diphthong, as in such words as new, few, now, how." Colby, you're wrong! The word ewm, "a circular geological formation," has "w" as its only vowel.

Answer: Correct. It's pronounced: koom, to rhyme with "room." It is a Welsh loan word used mainly by geologists.

P. M. C., Chillicothe: When I was in high school, a woman lecturer tried to persuade the class to give up the "lip-lazy" pronunciation "DIC-tion-AR-y." She insisted on the correctness of "DIC-shun-ry."

Answer: Your lecturer had the cart before the horse. "DIC-shun-ry" is "lip-lazy"—that is, it's a British telescoping that is slovenly in American usage. All the familiar -ary and -ery words should have a secondary accent on the third syllable, thus: DIC-tion-AR-y, MIL-i-TAR-y, SEC-ret-AR-y, etc.

B. R., Kansas City: We boys and girls of the Pershing School seventh grade are wondering which words are best—"some-one, anyone" or "somebody, anybody."

Answer: They are interchangeable and equally correct. It's a matter of choice.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Philadelphia.—The arrest of top officials of the Communist party in the United States puts Henry Wallace in a most unhappy position. Coming on the eve of the convention of his third party here in Philadelphia, it forces him to make a decision that he has long sought to evade.

In reality, of course, he has no choice. He has gone so far with the shrewd managers who operate on the fringes of Communism that only one course would seem to be open to him. He must espouse the cause of the Communists who are raising the cry of persecution. William Z. Foster and others had scarcely been arrested when the national committee of the Communist party issued a two-page statement. The significant passage of that statement said:

"Terrified of the growing support for the Wallace-Taylor ticket, the Democratic high command is seeking to brand the new party as 'criminal' because among the opponents of Wall Street's two old parties and their candidates are the Communists, who also join with all other progressives in supporting the new people's anti-war party."

The significance lies in the identification of interest between the Communists and the "New Party." From the beginning this same strategy has been clear. The Communist party took the credit for initiating the Wallace movement and every effort has been made to build up the relationship.

WALLACE NOT A COMMUNIST

Wallace is not a Communist and he has never been a Communist. There are indications that the fond embrace of Communism has made him increasingly unhappy. In an informal talk in New Hampshire he went so far as to express the wish that the Communists would enter their own ticket in the presidential election. Then, said Wallace, I might lose 100,000 votes but I would gain 3,000,000.

But the Communists have not taken the hint nor are they likely to. They see in Wallace a useful symbol to use in recruiting a following which would otherwise be frightened by the label Communism.

The growing split between Communists and fellow-travelers, on the one hand, and non-Communist liberals and radicals, on the other hand, has stimulated the report that Wallace would withdraw. When he is asked about that possibility, he answers in a tired voice that he intends to go to the end of the road.

He sounds, in private conversation at least, like a man who finds himself in a wretched situation which he had not foreseen. And even if he knew how to get himself out of it, those who have become his chief advisers would make it all but impossible for one of Wallace's malleable temperament.

It is too early to say whether the Communist cry of persecution will convince any others than the faithful who are ready to take up whatever line is ordered. In recent months many Americans with no connection whatsoever with Communism have been deeply concerned by the way in which individuals have been condemned for their beliefs. Hysteria in the aftermath of the war has approached the phobia stage, as Bert Andrews of the New York Herald Tribune shows so effectively in his just-published book, "Washington Witch Hunt."

MUST PROVE GUILTY

Trial in the federal courts is, however, something quite different. Here there will be carefully prescribed procedure in the long tradition at the root of American law, which assumes that a man is innocent until he is proved guilty. This will not be the House un-American activities committee with its slapdash, hit-or-miss method of smearing anyone who comes before it.

The government will have to produce conclusive evidence to show that Communist officials are trying to overthrow the government by force and violence. This charge has been frequently made, and it will be important to have a decision by the highest court of the land.

For, of course, the final determination will be made by the supreme court. The test should be advanced as rapidly as possible since so much turns on the decision.

The indicted Communists will do everything they can to make themselves martyrs, conveniently ignoring the fact that they persistently subvert and pervert the law to their own uses when it suits their convenience. Nor should the political force of martyrdom be discounted.

There are millions of Americans who feel they cannot get a square deal because of discriminations and barriers raised against them. They are not Communists. But they may be attracted to Communism and to the third party if they feel there is no other way out.

O. G. T., Miami: Please give us the origins of the words "camera" and "kodak." Answer: Camera is a Latin word that means "a vaulted chamber." The camera is so called because of the chamber that separates the lens from the film or plate. "Kodak" is a coined word invented by the late George Eastman, and used as a trademark.

M. W., Flint: Please, how should we pronounce the word "debauch?" Answer: Either: de-BAH-k'l or: de-BAK-ull. Debauch, a French loan word (pronounced: day-BAH-kluh), has the curious literal meaning, "the breaking of ice," as in a river (rupture des glaces).

Are you uncertain about the pronunciation of such words as schedule, graduate, picture and feature? If so, Mr. Colby's leaflet on palatization, C-18, will help you. Ruark's Views

By Bob Ruark

New York.—There are a couple of extra aspects of the recent Nancy Choremi vice case, in which a beautiful babe was convicted as a prostitute on wiretapped evidence, which haven't been fully explored and which I would like a second cut at. The first, which we had yesterday, was that in my theory the law was guilty of illegal trespass into Mrs. Choremi's home, since said home was actually invaded and its secrets rifled without prior legal permission for a specific prostitution search. The police, cursing after some bookies, got a wire-tap permit for bookie hunting. In the course of eavesdropping, they tuned in on La Choremi, snatched their lips, and then went back for permission to prosecute her as an expensive call girl. Under the formal search-warrant (or a man's home is inviolable) law, they would never have been nosing around in the Choremi household, by means of a tap, in the first place. They hung her on an accident which is legally incapable of occurring in the physical shakedown of a citizen's home.

Convicted of 'Loitering'

Whether Mrs. Choremi is or is not a prostitute has no bearing on the matter. She was finally convicted of "loitering" in her own apartment, for purposes of vice, and it was not proven in court that any money changed hands or that any man conspired in the act which would make her guilty of prostitution. She was acquitted of "loitering" in places outside her home, a conceivable act of punishable vagrancy. This leaves me with the odd feeling that, for Pete's sake, if you can't loiter in your own home, where can you loiter?

If wire-tapped evidence is admissible at all (and it is not, in federal prosecution) then it seems to me it should be forced to show a commission of an illegal act, rather than an intent to commit one.

From the evidence I read, Mrs. Choremi is guilty of no crime beyond the acceptance of an invitation to go out and play with a man who might be prevailed upon to spend some dough—on dinner, drinks, and maybe a trinket. This is not generally believed to be a crime—or, if it is, it is a crime which is shared by an awful lot of nice working girls, who like to pad out their skimpy incomes with a blind date for dinner and a dance.

Dames Get the Rap

The weight of guilt has always been placed on the prostitute with the gent in the case regarded as an innocent victim of the defendant's wiles. As in the case of the Washington scandal of a few years back, the contributor to the crime slides out the back door and the dames absorb the rap. As I remember, a baker's dozen of Senators and other Washington high shots sneaked out in the raid on that Washington message parlor, and the ladies took the fall.

I do not endorse prostitution as a career when I say that morally the woman is no guiltier than the man who bows her, if ethics are to be transcribed into law—which was, I believe, the original function of law—then no woman should be legally convicted of

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Escanaba.—Charles Magnuson, well known Escanaba resident, yesterday announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for county treasurer. He has been employed with the Delta Hardware company since 1911. The definite date for the wedding has not been set.

Escanaba.—Miss Catherine Semer was hostess at the first party to be given in honor of Miss Elizabeth Ryall since the recent announcement of her engagement. Escanaba.—Mr. and Mrs. Alex Rodgers returned yesterday from a three weeks visit at their former home in Ontario, Canada. The trip was made by motor. The last Congress has one star in its crown. For 16 years we were headed for more and more control, higher and higher taxes. We reversed that trend. We took a new road. We began to walk in the paths of freedom.—Rep. Joseph W. Martin, jr., (R., Mass.)

that crime unless caught in the act of commission or solicitation. This would make the man equally guilty, or innocent, and for a sound case, he would have to appear in court, get his name in the papers, and admit or deny paying Sophie so much. In the sale of other illegal goods—say stolen property or narcotics—the buyer is equally culpable with the seller. And the recipient must generally be caught with the loot in his possession.

Concurring the validity of a wire-tap to show intent to commit a crime, that is brain-peering, and to my mind, not admissible. Under the legal thinking that convicted Mrs. Choremi, I am guilty of the murder of at least a dozen copyreaders. Any dick who might have been listening to my phone, over the past dozen years, might often have heard me declare, profanely, that if so-and-so ever touched my copy again, I would stab him mortally with his own shears.

No person alive, including preachers, could defend all his private thoughts and conversation in a courtroom. Wiretapping presupposes these thoughts and conversations as evidence. Mrs. Choremi and her friends may be guilty of all the crimes in the book, but I say they didn't prove it in court. For my money, her privacy was grievously invaded by an unsavory device whose legality is as open to dispute as a cop's use of a rubber hose on the feet of an uncooperative suspect.

Roving Reporter

By Hal Boyle

Philadelphia (P).—The white-haired old corporation attorney, mad at both the Republicans and the Democrats, had come to hit the sawdust trail for Henry Wallace.

Elegant in a white sharkskin suit and blue tie, 75-year-old Arthur Dun of New York City looked a little out of place as he waited to appear before the last public hearing of the New Party's platform committee.

There were more than a score there to testify for causes, old and new.

Fights Poll Tax

They spoke at such length that Mrs. Elinor Gimbel, acting as platform secretary, warned: "If we keep on like this we'll be here until tomorrow. From now on we'll have to limit each speaker to five minutes." The first victim of the ruling was the elderly corporation lawyer.

"I have been voting for 54 years," Dun began. "I first voted back in 1894 when I was an undergraduate at Princeton. I always voted Republican until 1932. I guess I just didn't know any better."

The small audience of 75 in the ballroom of Convention Hall whooped lustily. Corporation lawyers are rare here.

"My mother was a member of the slave-holding aristocracy of Virginia," Dun continued. "But my hobby now is fighting the poll tax."

The spectators cheered again, and the corporation attorney bowed graciously.

He then began reading the text of his statement. It called upon Congress to enforce the 2nd section of the 14th amendment, which requires that if a state abridges the right to vote in any way, the number on representatives in Congress from such state must be reduced proportionately.

"Because of failure of Congress to enforce this provision," Dun said, "the seven poll tax states in the south have 69 members in the House of Representatives, whereas they are entitled to but 28."

"Time Is Up"

Dun said he was sure that the southern states would rather remove the poll tax or other limitations on voting rather than have their membership in Congress reduced.

"Furthermore—" he said on, and when Mrs. Gimbel interrupted him:

"Time! Your time is up." "But this is the most important thing in the country today," protested the old attorney. "If this plan is carried out, no civil rights legislation will be required."

"I'm sorry," murmured Mrs. Gimbel. "I'm sorry, too," said Dun sadly. He folded his manuscript and walked back to his seat.

Later he said: "I didn't ask to appear before the committee. They asked me. But I do wish they had let me finish. It was so important."

Then he brightened: "You know after I gave up on Hoover I voted for Franklin D. Roosevelt. But now I am for Henry Wallace. I met him when he was secretary of agriculture. I gave him a book of mine and he gave me a book of his. He has a fine mind. He certainly does understand economics."

Then Dun leaned forward to listen to the next speaker. He was a little man in shirt-sleeves demanding that the Third Party take a firm stand against liquor advertising.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—Uncensored dispatches from behind the iron curtain have increased the fear that Russia may be ready for war now.

Hitherto diplomats felt certain that the Soviet did not want war for at least two or three years—until she could develop the A-bomb. But here are some developments which have taken place behind the iron curtain.

1. The Communist-controlled Czech government has just received orders from Moscow to empty a large number of army barracks in western Czechoslovakia in preparation for the early arrival of large Russian troop concentrations. It's important to remember that Czechoslovakia is adjacent to the American zone of Germany. If this report is accurate, the Red army is moving up units to face U. S. troops in the American zone.

2. The Russians have ordered thousands of bilingual signposts erected all the way from the Soviet border to the German border for the use of Red army divisions. Word that these signposts are being set up has leaked out through the Czech underground. They all point in the direction of Berlin and Paris.

3. Russia has just occupied 15 new air bases in Eastern Germany, west of the Soviet border. Some of these air bases are staffed with the Russian version of the B-29, copied from B-29s which were forced down in Siberia during the war.

4. Russia has quietly summoned home for consultation some of the most trusted diplomats in its foreign service, leaving relative second-stringers in charge of its embassies.

5. Word has gone out from Moscow for the immediate purge of all dissident and weak elements in the Communist party throughout Europe. This means any Communist who doesn't toe the Moscow line unflinchingly is to be ousted. This order reportedly has the blessing of Premier Stalin. It is interpreted to mean that the Kremlin is gearing for a final showdown.

PROPAGANDA BALLOONS TO RUSSIA
Secretary for Air Stuart Symington and Air Force officers are giving serious consideration to the idea of having B-29s drop propaganda messages to the Russian people at the same time that the B-29s reinforce our position in Berlin.

Purpose of the idea would be to remind the Russian people that the American and Russian armies battled as comrades to win the recent war, that our right to remain in Berlin was part of that victory, that the American people do not want war with their former comrades-in-arms and that the propaganda fed them by the Moscow radio that we are panting for war is so much poppycock.

Back of the idea also would be the fact that the 14 men in the Politburo alone can put Russia into a war—unless there is a strong negative urge along the Russian people not to go to war. And the only way to give them that negative urge is to go over the Kremlin's head to make their understand that the American people do not want war either.

GOVERNMENT REACTION
Here is the first-blush reaction of government officials to the idea of getting these peace appeals via weather balloons to the Russian people:

Weather bureau—It's perfectly feasible to float small weather balloons from Western Europe to Russia. About 7 out of 10 would get there. By gauging the amount of gas in the balloons it would be possible to fix the approximate point for their landing inside Russia. (The Japs measured the distance across the Pacific during the war to land balloons in the Pacific Northwest.) Best launching place would be Germany or Northern France. They would drift at a speed of from 25 to 50 miles an hour once they reach the upper wind currents.

Air Forces—Unofficially, think the idea is good. However, past experience shows that balloons released from planes in flight crash against the fuselage and break. Therefore, it's proposed that the balloons be released from the ground. (Weather bureau says this is feasible.)

State department—Unofficially and very cautiously, thinks idea might be all right. War Assets administration—Had large supply of balloons on hand but they're now sold out. Army Signal Corps and weather bureau have a certain number which could be borrowed and replaced later.

If it is important to get friendship messages from the American people to the Russian people, then ways and means can be found for doing it. Various patriotic Americans have volunteered to print the messages free, donate candy, wrist watches, etc., to be sent with the messages. The government has plenty of resourcefulness to put across this propaganda—if it wants to. In wartime we make any sacrifice—blood and treasure—to end a war which has already started. But in peacetime we count the pennies when it comes to preventing a war before it gets started.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Gen Omar Bradley, who is a four-star human being as well as a general, has a secretary named Mary Pitcairn. Mary's dad was chairman of the board of the Wabash railroad. Before Bradley went to West Point he worked for the Wabash Railroad—13 cents an hour. . . . Movie actor Gene Raymond is learning first hand about the Air Corps' new supersonic plane. He will star in a picture featuring faster-than-sound aircraft. . . . Secretary of State Marshall has spent part of three straight weeks in Walter Reed hospital. He would like to resign—except for his loyalty to Truman. Army-Navy brasshats are lathered up over the prospect of having Tom Dewey in the White House, because: They fear a leading ex-brasshat will become his chief of staff—Gen. Hugh Drum. General Drum, passed over by General Marshall, finally retired, has been military adviser to Governor Dewey since.

Housekeeping In Panama Has Its
Drawbacks And Its Advantages

By AMY BOLGER

Setting up housekeeping in Panama has its difficulties but like any new community it is simply a matter of adjustment, according to Marion Strahl Boyer, former staff photographer of the Escanaba Daily Press and Life Magazine, who with her husband, John Joseph Boyer, is back in the states for a two months' vacation.

Joe is with the United States Army Engineers and the Boyers live on the Army post in Curundu, about a five minute ride by bus from Panama City.

The Boyers' quarters are furnished by the United States government. There are no private homes. They have a two room apartment in an eight family house. The windows are screened and have wooden blinds, but no glass. Overhanging eaves protect the interior from the rains. All of the homes are set up on posts and the space beneath the house becomes a laundry room, a garage, a hobby shop, a playground for children or just a place to sit out in lawn chairs and relax—according to the desires of the occupants.

Contrary to popular notion there are no mosquitos. Army planes and DDT take care of that. The prime nuisances are cockroaches, ants and termites.

No "Stacking" Dishes
"Dishes must be washed as soon as they are used," Marion said yesterday, discussing housekeeping in the Canal Zone, "and one doesn't dare leave a scrap of food around."

"Mildew and rust are other annoyances, but dry closets with heating elements combat these successfully. In these closets—we have two of them in our apartment—are kept all clothing, linens, bedding, shoes, electrical appliances, cameras and photographic equipment, typewriters, pins and needles and other sewing equipment, such tools as you might have, your jewelry—well, just about everything of metal or leather. And chewing gum, too—it practically melts away to nothing if you leave it out."

"Our books we do leave out but they are treated with a special solution."

"All of which makes neatness a necessity as well as a virtue in Panama."

"We shop in the government commissaries," Marion said in answer to a question. "These are comparable to stores in the states and prices are about the same. We are issued coupon books which we use for groceries and household articles."

English Language Used
"English is spoken entirely in the commissaries. Spanish is not necessary to make out in this part of Panama. In fact I have met some Canalites who have been there 30 years or more and speak nothing but English and buy nothing but American goods."

"In the dry closet in the kitchen we keep salt, sugar, cereals, baking powder, crackers, well—you might say all dry ingredients for cooking."

"One thing we do miss is good potatoes," Marion continued. "Potatoes will sprout in just a few days in the heat and moisture. The good potatoes are expensive. I paid 8 cents a piece for ordinary sized bakers just before we left for home. There are no fresh berries, all berries are frozen. But the abundance of native fruit and vegetables makes up for this."

"We have the papaya, which is similar to a melon, the mangoes which we pick in the front yard whenever we want them, bananas, which are picked green, but which ripen quickly, chayotes, somewhat like squash, and the plantains, which we especially like. These are like bananas, from 12 to 18 inches long. They cannot be eaten raw but must be fried or baked and their flavor is delicious."

"Fresh fish, the ocean varieties, snapper and mackerel among them, is always available."

Eat Heavy Meals
"You might think that people in Panama would eat lightly because of the heat, but that is not the case," Marion said. "There are none of the cold meat lunches to which we are accustomed in this country when the temperature soars. Meals are always hot and well balanced, meat, potatoes, vegetables and dessert."

Amusements are much as they are in the states. The Boyers see the latest motion pictures. There are swimming pools, tennis courts, golf courses and plenty of baseball which is a popular sport. If one wishes to see a bull fight he may go into the Republic where they are held occasionally. Shopping in the shops in the Republic also is fun.

Trips into the interior furnish interesting and fascinating scenes particularly on the coffee and banana plantations and the mahogany groves.

The roads are good within a radius of 50 miles from Panama City, and that is about as far as anyone wishes to go.

The rains start in May and continue through December. It rains hard but spasmodically, a down-pour one minute and sunshine the next. The average rainfall on the Pacific side on which Curundu is located is seven feet a season. On the Atlantic side it is 14 feet.

Christmas And 90 Degrees
"Christmas in Panama!" Marion repeated the question. "We all bought trees which were brought in to the commissaries, and decorated them with lights and then sat around in our shorts with the temperature about 90."

Marion plans to learn Spanish. Her upstairs neighbor who recently arrived in Panama is from Honduras, and speaks only Spanish. She and Marion became fast friends when Marion explained the operation of the gas cooking stove which had terrified the newcomer—she had never seen one before. A little good neighbor exchange of languages is in prospect when the Boyers return to Curundu in September.

Old Inscriptions
To Be Recorded
For First Time

Washington, (SS) — The first complete copy of an ancient inscription carved more than 2,400 years ago on the walls of Mount Behistun in Iran will be made by a group of American archaeologists this summer.

This inscription is called "The Rosetta Stone of Western Asia" after the original "Rosetta Stone" found on the Nile which held the key to Egyptian hieroglyphics. The inscription on Mount Behistun has shown scholars how to translate ancient cuneiform writing.

The expedition is sponsored by the University of Michigan and the American Schools of Oriental Research and is under the direction of Prof. George G. Cameron of the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.

The inscription the expedition will study is one of the most famous in Western Asia. Cut into the rocks by the order of Darius, King of Persia, it contains a relief showing Darius and 10 of his enemies whom he subdued. Underneath the relief are eight columns of cuneiform writing, telling how Darius outwitted his enemies, and with the aid of his god Auramazda, became king over Persia. This is explained because he was "neither a liar nor an evil-doer, neither I nor any of my family."

The story is told in three languages which were current 2,500 years ago. These are: Elamite, which is mentioned in the Biblical book of Esther; old Persian, Darius' own tongue; and Babylonian. By comparing these different versions of the same story, modern scholars have found the key to cuneiform.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Plank of Grand Ledge are spending a week at the Ray Laburnard home.

Mrs. Glenn Hamilton and son, Charles of Marinette arrived Thursday to spend the remainder of the week at the C. E. Hamilton home.

Joseph Duquette, a former pastor of St. Charles church, son of Fr. Duquette's sister, Mrs. Emma Pringle, who is well known in this community. Everett has been playing in public for a number of years.

Two Pacific Coast
Golf Veterans Enter
Public Links Finals

Atlanta, July 24 (AP)—Two Pacific coast golfing veterans—Ben Hughes, the stocky Portland, Ore. stylist, and Mike Ferentz, a Long Beach, Calif., bartender—battled today for the top Public Links golfing title.

Hughes' victory in the semi-finals was a comparatively easy 4 and 3 tour against Oliver Kay of Toledo, Ohio, and the University of Miami (Florida) golf team.

The semifinal victory for Ferentz was in a tough see-saw battle with Atlanta's Charley Barnes, who lost the match when Ferentz sank a 30-foot winding putt on the 17th hole.

FOR BETTER HOMES

Build - Repair - Remodel

FOR BETTER LIVING

STILL ANOTHER VERSION of the Cape Cod cottage is introduced in this clean-cut plan, "The Highland." It will be noted that the scheme includes no fireplace but, if this feature is desired, it may be built in the long outside wall of the living room. It will add $200 or more to the cost of the house.

Small House Plan Has Provision For Growth

Space For Two Additional Bedrooms On The Second Floor Could Be Left Unfinished Until Accommodations Are Needed

Too many of the stock plans for small houses available today anticipate no possible future need of additional rooms. Hence many prospective home builders will welcome "The Highland," today's design from the Home of the Week Plan Service, because it not only provides complete living accommodations on its first floor but also has space on the second floor for two additional bedrooms which can be finished up at the time of construction or if desired, at some later period when the need arises. Despite the completeness of this house, its cubage has been kept unusually low, totalling only 15,500 feet. And with overall dimensions of 29x25 feet, the house can be nicely adapted to a lot with a 50-foot frontage, leaving ample room for a driveway to the this case the present door from the porch would need to be re-located, opening on the dining room instead of the living room as at present.

White painted clapboards or shingles, green shutters and trim and a reddish-brown asphalt roof are suggested for the exterior. The treatment of the front entrance, with its platform of bricks set in concrete, and its iron railings, will slightly increase the construction cost, but from the standpoint of appearance the extra expense is justified.

Inexpensive sidelights flanking the solid, stock Colonial front door also improve the appearance of the doorway by day and, at night, shed a warm welcoming glow from within.

Coat Closet In Front Hall

The front entrance opens on a small hall with coat closet. Opposite the front door the stairway rises to the second floor, with a door at the top landing to cut off drafts. The living room is connected with the entry hall by an archway. Two windows and the French door to the side porch light this 15.6x11-foot room. A wide arch joins the living room and an 8x8-foot dining space designed to accommodate a studio type dining set.

Balancing the arch to the front entry hall is another cased doorway opening on an inner hall leading to all rooms on this floor. Basement stairs lead down from this inner hall and, beside the bathroom is a door to the first-floor bedroom, a 12x11-foot chamber having two windows and a good-sized clothes closet. A door also connects the bedroom with the front entry hall, giving privacy to the room's occupant, who may thus come and go without having to pass through the rest of the house.

Pullman "Gallery" Kitchen

The kitchen, directly connected to the dining room, follows the Pullman "gallery" plan. Under a double window looking out to the rear of the house, the sink is centered in a long working counter with storage cupboards above and below. Across the room, along the inner wall, range and refrigerator stand in line. At the far end of the kitchen is a small service entry space with a door opening on the rear yard. There is a closet in this entry for brooms, rubbers, etc. Connection between kitchen and the inner hall is afforded. Floors of kitchen, rear entry, bathroom and inner hall, as well as working counters in the kitchen, are linoleum covered.

Plans for the Highland call for a full basement, in which heating plant and laundry equipment could be located under the kitchen, leaving the rest of the space free for storage or recreational use.

Small Hall on Second Floor

The second floor plans call for a small hall at the head of the stairs, lighted by a window in the shed dormer on the rear roof. A linen and storage closet and both bedrooms open from the hall. Both bedrooms, measuring 11x9.6 and 10x9.6 feet respectively, have windows on two exposures and each has a clothes closet.

If it is intended to finish up the second floor, then the entire roof and gable ends above the first floor ceiling line should be insulated. If the attic is to be left unfinished, insulation should be installed over the first floor ceilings.

Plans Are Available

Complete plans and specifications for this house, "The Highland," are available at moderate cost. To ascertain the exact price of these documents, write the Home Building Editor, Daily Press, and enclose a self-addressed envelope bearing a three-cent stamp. At least one week should be allowed for a reply. (Released by the "Home of the Week" Plan Service.)

AIDS TO CLEAN SHELVES

Kitchen shelves which become spotted and sticky should always be kept washable with a smooth paint or varnish finish.

Gromyko And Eisler Top Leaders Of Red Forces In North America

W. Z. Foster And Others Are Only Titular Heads

(Fourth of a series revealing, for the first time, the full extent of Communism in the U. S., and the strategy for domination of North America).

By DON CAMERON

(Special to the Escanaba Daily Press)

Who are the actual on-the-spot bosses of North American Communism?

Andrei Gromyko, deputy foreign minister of the Soviet Union, ranked highest among them officially until the other day, when he was recalled to Moscow. As Russia's chief delegate to the United Nations and minister to Cuba (strategically situated and deeply Red-infiltrated island republic) which he visited only to present his credentials, he occupied an ideal position for furthering the Kremlin's designs for global domination.

Gerhart Eisler, the owl-like German Bolshevik who posed as a harrassed refugee, held top place in the underground command through the greater part of the 1930s and '40s until he landed in a federal prison last Summer. A conspirator of proven talents, Eisler did more than give orders; he devised the practical means for carrying them out and cracked the whip for action.

Before these purposeful men arrived on the scene, other acknowledged representatives of the USSR and surreptitious taskmasters kept our fifth columnists in step with international Communism. Now that Gromyko has departed, for the present at least, and Eisler is serving time for passport fraud pending his deportation, their successors may be presumed to be already on the job.

Use Party Heads

The job consists of making sure that the titular leaders of Communist parties in America receive and obey the directives of Joseph V. Stalin, the absolute czar of all Communist parties everywhere.

Who are the titular leaders? William Zebulon Foster, 67-year-old ex-hobo who ran three times at the Communist Party's candidate for the Presidency of the United States, has been the party's national chairman since Earl Browder fell from grace two years ago.

Tim Buck, who immigrated to Canada from his native England 35 years ago and in 1931, after a pilgrimage to Moscow, was imprisoned for advocating the violent overthrow of the Canadian government, is secretary-general of the Dominion's Labor-Progressive (Communist) Party.

Dionisio Encina, an unprepossessing Zacatecan carpenter, was placed in charge of the Mexican Communist Party by Browder in 1940.

Blas Roccas, who was christened Francisco Caldero, proudly manages the largest Red body in the Western Hemisphere, Cuba's 200,000-strong Popular Socialist Party, of which Juan Marinello, vice president of the Senate, and unsuccessful candidate recently for the national presidency is the titular head.

Manuel Mora, Moscow-trained soldier and scholar, stands at the head of Costa Rica's militant Popular Vanguard (Communist) Party.

They are the main ones, able men and some of them brilliant, but limited in authority. World Communism has only one master and whatever messenger carries his orders, whether in the guise of an ambassador or a shabby immigrant, takes precedence over secretaries-general and chairmen.

The post-war emergence of Russia as an aggressor in the common political-economic domain finds the security police and secret agents of all North American governments searching anxiously for the hidden links between continental revolutionary cadres and the high command in Moscow. Dramatic proofs have come from Washington, Ottawa, Mexico City and Havana that these links exist and that their primary purpose is to enable the Soviet Union, by maneuvering its Red foreign legions within technically friendly nations, to gain unfriendly and unfair advantages.

Real Leaders Unknown

By and large, the FBI and its counterparts in Canada and Latin America have succeeded only in part. I have the word of the chief of the subversive division of one of these organizations to that effect, together with this explanation:

"A secret Communist agent would find it difficult, but not impossible to operate extensively in this country without being suspected. We think we know nearly all of them—and there are plenty—but there's no way to be sure.

Spotting them, as a rule, is fairly simple. But learning what they're up to, and exactly how important they are, is something else. The ones picked for big assignments have brains, training and experience. Some have served with the NKVD or the MVD, the Soviet secret police. The best of them are sold on what they're doing, which means they don't worry about personal danger, but just about doing a good job.

"Sometimes, when official representatives of Russia or its satellite states enter into the picture, we run into the ticklish question of the diplomatic angle, no Canadian official would have dared suggest in 1945 that the Soviet Embassy in Ottawa might be the headquarters of a spy ring operating through Canadian Communist front groups. The Russian plot to steal atomic bomb secrets might never have come to light if that cipher clerk at the embassy hadn't betrayed his superiors rather than be sent back to Russia.

"Diplomatic considerations let Gerhart Eisler remain at large to direct illegal Communist activities long after the FBI had his number. Certain Very Important Persons didn't want to hurt any Russian feelings so the agents had to wait for months to arrest Eisler, keeping him under surveillance meanwhile."

This official mentioned lists of supposedly dangerous subversives and plans for rounding them up in the event of a national emergency.

"We wouldn't miss many," he said, "but we'd worry that the few we missed might include the most dangerous of all. How could we tell? We go to a lot of trouble checking some mysterious foreigner who goes everywhere and sees everybody in Red circles, only to find out he's a harmless crackpot. Then we'll work on some quiet, steady fellow who doesn't get around much, but has a few Communist friends, and we'll get nowhere—but for all we know he may be Stalin's right-hand man in America."

If J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI knows who is wearing Gerhart Eisler's mantle today in the multiple role of field marshal, top sergeant and wheel horse of the Communist underground he is not publicizing the fact. Another pseudo-refugee bearing fraudulent credentials many have been sent over, after a briefing at the Kremlin or the headquarters of the Cominform. Or he could be a business man with bona fides attesting his connection with a firm doing a legitimate business both in the United States and behind the Iron Curtain.

Perhaps it was not necessary to send anyone. Eisler may have had an understudy here, a man not openly connected with the party, yet sufficiently shrewd, unscrupulous and experienced to qualify as an arch-conspirator. Or a woman.

Red Veterans First

One thing is sure: Since Joseph Pogany, alias John Pepper, came from the USSR in 1923 to run the United States Communist Party for the Comintern, a veteran Bolshevik has been on hand always to exercise supreme authority. After Pogany's return to Russia—where he was shot in one of Stalin's fantastic purges—Reds in America were bossed at various times by a Soviet army officer, an ex-chairman of the Finnish Communist Party, a German fanatic who eventually went mad in a Brazilian prison, and a prominent Russian party member.

I have been reliably informed that not only the quarters of Soviet delegates to the United Nations, but Russian embassies, consulates and commercial installations also, are used by Moscow to contact saboteurs and spies and to expedite underground operations.

Pan-American Communist headquarters were set up originally in Mexico with Russian money and New York brains. Comrades from the United States did the spade-work south of the border, and the efficient techniques of Constantine Oumansky, Stalin's ambassador to Mexico, thereafter made Latin American Communism a force to be reckoned with from the Rio Grande to Cape Horn.

Havana Spearhead

In 1945, after Oumansky's death in a plane crash—behind which some observers professed to see the shadowy hand of the Soviet secret police carrying out a Moscow order of execution—the organizational center was moved to Havana, already the seat of the hemisphere's biggest and best-trained party, which possessed excellent propaganda media.

Under the non-resident ministry of Gromyko, directives and propaganda prepared by his staff and others in New York poured into the Soviet legation at Havana. There, says anti-Communist Senator Carlos Prio Socarras, president-elect of Cuba, the material was handled by an all-Red working force of 40 or more persons—Czechs, Yugoslavs and Poles as well as Russians—of whom only four were accredited members of the legation.

This material was dispatched not only to Blas Roccas's Cuban party, but westward to Central America and southward to such stalwarts as Luiz Carlos Prestes of Brazil. Stalin's most powerful ally below the equator: Carlos Contreras Labarca of Chile, who has sworn that if there is a war with Russia his fighting Communists will halt the flow of Chilean nitrates and copper to the United States; and Augusto Duran of Colombia, whose Red action committees in Bogota murdered, burned and pillaged in the April uprising that interrupted the International Conference of American States.

Gromyko's labors were not restricted to hurling votes at Lake Success and encouraging Latin American comrades. Foster and other Red executives often met in New York with him and members of his staff. I am told, and sometimes were enlightened regarding their duties to Moscow by information coming straight from there through department channels.

Now Stalin's Politburo has sent Jacob A. Malik, also a deputy foreign minister to replace Gromyko in the United Nations. A more genial man than Gromyko on the surface, Malik was Soviet ambassador to Japan during the late war and has fought effectively to gain concessions for his government in the Far East and Middle East.

Whether he will extend a guiding hand to American comrades toiling in the revolutionary vineyard, so that they also may fight effectively for his government, remains to be seen—unless of course, the hand is quicker than the eye.

Building In Escanaba Lags 7% Behind June 1947 Figure; Has Lowest Valuation In Peninsula

Building in Escanaba for the first six months of 1948 lagged seven per cent behind the valuation of the building in the city for the same period last year. Through June 1948, a total of $268,910 was represented in building permits issued, and for the same period in 1947, $288,070 was spent in new building.

The figure for this year represents 93 per cent of the building through June of 1947. Escanaba is the only major city in Upper Michigan which is not exceeding its 1947 building valuation. Iron Mountain, Ironwood, Marquette, Menominee and Sault Ste. Marie are meeting their 1947 records over 100 per cent, according to survey figures released by the Department of Research and statistics of the Federal Reserve Bank of the fifth district, with headquarters in Minneapolis.

In June of 1947, Escanaba released building permits to the value of $33,680 and in June of this year, building permits to the sum of $28,830 have been granted. Thus in June alone of this year, building, in this city fell off by $4,850. The drop for the first six months is $19,160.

Menominee, through June 1948, issued building permits to the value of $37,430, 209 per cent of the June 1947 total figure of $257,410.

Sault Ste. Marie has built to the value of $274,360 through June of this year which is 100 per cent of last year's figures.

Marquette built to the value of $526,710 through June of 1948, 211 per cent of last year's building total through June.

Iron Mountain has issued building permits to the valuation of $232,000, 207 per cent of their 1947 first six-month period; and Ironwood, $87,410, 109 per cent of their figure last year.

A total of $1,926,820 in building permit valuations in Upper Michigan through June of this year, which represents an increase of 53 per cent over last year's total at that time of $1,262,800. A total of $645,080 was listed in building permits in the peninsula for 1948 and $312,200 in June, 1947.

EVENING-FERGUSON

Of interest in Manistique and Nahma where the bride and her family are well known is the wedding of Dr. Emmeline Charlotte Evenden, daughter of Mrs. Eva Evenden, 171 Church street, Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, and the late E. J. Evenden, and Dr. Thomas Andrew Ferguson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Ferguson, Sr., of Louisville, Ky.

The bride's mother will be remembered as the former Eva Anderson of Manistique, and other relatives are the bride's aunts, Mrs. Lorn Harding, Manistique and Mrs. Frank Blowers of Nahma, and her uncle Charles Anderson of Nahma.

A description of the wedding from the Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, press follows:

Of wide interest was the wedding in Louisville, Kentucky, of Dr. Emmeline Charlotte Evenden, daughter of Mrs. Eva Evenden, 171 Church street, Sault Ste. Marie, and the late E. J. Evenden, and Dr. Thomas Andrew Ferguson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Ferguson, Sr., of Louisville, Kentucky, on June 18.

"A profusion of white gladioli banked the altar of the Calvary Episcopal Church for the service and palms, ferns and candelabra graced the steps of the candlelight service at seven-thirty o'clock performed by Rev. F. Elliott-Baker.

"Floral sprays tied in tulle bows marked the guest pews.

"Mrs. Clay Scott rendered 'The Lord's Prayer' and 'O Perfect Love,' when the couple retired to sign the register. Traditional wedding music was played by Miss Ruth Ewing.

"Escorted to the chancel of the church by her uncle, Mr. John L. Greenfield, Jr., who gave her in marriage, the bride was radiant in a gown of gardenia silk marquisette, with a lace bodice and the valley design, and fashioned with a hoop skirt ending in a slight train and trimmed with satin ribbons gathered slightly to reveal the lacy petticoat. The moulded bodice was fitted with buttons down the back to the waistline. A tiara of pearls held in place her formal veil which was gathered over the tiara and extended into a long train. For something old she wore her grandmother's wedding ring and for something borrowed, her mother's pearl necklace. Her bouquet was centered with an orchid surrounded by white roses and bouvardia tied in tulle and with lavender and white satin streamers.

"Mrs. Albert Thornton, sister of the groom, was matron of honor and chose a pink georgette creation designed with a lace bodice round neckline and puffed sleeves. Her pink picture hat was trimmed with blue ribbon. She wore matching silk mittens and carried a bouquet of pink roses of bouvardia.

Reception at Home
"Miss Cecilia Ferre of Jeffersonville, Ill., as bridesmaid was gowned in blue georgette cut on similar lines to the matron of honor's gown and with a panned skirt of ruffles, and she carried red roses and bouvardia.

"Miss Carla-Dawn Evenden attended her sister as junior bridesmaid and was charming in a pink orsandy gown, a satin and net underskirt fashioned with a tiered skirt and bustle bow. Her net crown was trimmed with matching pink ribbons and she carried pink roses.

Mr. Albert Thornton attended his brother-in-law as best man and the ushers were Mr. Jack Evenden, brother of the bride, Mr. James Ferguson and Mr. Joseph Ferguson, brother of the groom.

"The home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Greenfield, Jr., was the scene of the wedding reception. Mrs. Evenden received in a black and white silk jersey afternoon dress with a white hat and accessories and a corsage of white roses. Mrs. Ferguson assisted in receiving in a blue and white silk print frock with a white hat and a corsage of white roses.

Home in Cleveland
"For their honeymoon to Cincinnati by plane the bride donned a beige gabardine suit with white accessories and an orchid corsage. Dr. and Mrs. Ferguson, Jr. will make their home in Cleveland, Ohio, where they will both intern at the Cleveland City Hospital. Both the bride and the groom received their M.D. degrees from the University of

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear husband and father who passed away, July 23, 1947:

Memories are treasures no one can steal
Death leaves a heartache no one can heal
Some will forget him, now that he's gone
I shall remember him, no matter how long.

Time takes away the edge of grief
But memory turns back each leaf.
A loving thought, a silent tear
A beautiful memory of my Ben dear.

Peacefully sleeping, resting at last,
The world's weary troubles and trials are past.

Memory is a golden chain
That binds us till we meet again
To have, to love, and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.

The years may wipe out many things
But this they wipe out never,
When we were both together
One year has passed since that sad day.

The one we loved was called away
God took him home, it was his will
But in our hearts, he liveth still,
Now we wait for that great day,
Pray dear God, not far away
When together again, we can allways be.

Up there with God through eternity.

Sadly missed by his wife and children.

LIONS OF ROCK
ENTERTAINEDTalks And Softball Form
Varied Program

Arthur Briese, Hot Springs, Ark., humorist, writer and after dinner speaker, pleased a large assemblage at a joint meeting of the Rock and Gladstone Lions clubs Thursday evening at the Yacht club.

Briese possesses the rare gift of being able to mock an organization, its members and activities and have them all like it.

Charles Green Jr., who was the club's representative at the Wolverine Boys State, reported on the setup and operation of the Legion's citizenship project.

A softball game between the two clubs ended in an 8-8 deadlock.

Vogt, theatre manager, announces.

Missionary Speaks

The Rev. H. G. Rodine, secretary of Foreign Missions for the Evangelical Free Church of America, will speak at Bethel Free church here Tuesday evening at 7:45 o'clock. Rev. Rodine has just returned from an 18,500 mile trip to the heart of Belgian Congo, Africa, and he will tell of his recent trip. Colored slides and motion pictures will be used to illustrate the talk. All are invited.

Sgt. Willard Wixom said last evening there was little doubt but Gladstone would again go over the top in furnishing its quota of donors to the Michigan Health Department Blood Bank which is being held at Escanaba Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. He was within a few of reaching the quota set for this city and expected to have them before the end of the evening.

Sister M. Roberta Of Hospital Urges Donation Of Blood

Hospital patients who need blood plasma or whole blood can have this vital substance administered at a minimum transfusion cost of only $3, Sister M. Roberta, surgical supervisor of St. Francis hospital emphasized today, in urging Delta county adults to donate a pint of blood in the clinic to be held here next week.

"Before the department of health and the Red Cross began the blood bank, a transfusion cost a patient $25 plus the usual charge for administering the substance," she pointed out. "Then too, patients or their relatives often had to scour the city for someone with blood suitable to the patient's type."

"With the blood bank, it is possible to have blood and plasma at a moment's notice, and no time is lost in typing and cross-typing. Every bottle of blood is labeled, and any competent physician can know whether the type matches that of his patient," the surgical Sister pointed out.

"The time alone that is saved through this bank has saved many lives. And the patient and relatives are spared much trouble and anxiety. And of course," the supervisor pointed out, "the patient saves the $25 he ordinarily would have to pay for the blood."

"The only charge the hospital makes for the blood and plasma is for the administration of the substance and the cost of sterilizing tubing and equipment."

"Every citizen, and especially every Christian, ought to consider donation of a pint of blood in the campaign, his duty and his privilege. Who knows? The life they save might be their own or that of one of their dearest friends or closest relatives."

"Blood plasma," Sister Roberta said, "is used extensively in combating surgical shock, in reviving accident victims and in burn cases, where there is an excessive and critical loss of body fluid."

The clinic will be held in Escanaba, for all Delta county persons between the ages of 18 and 50 who are in good health. It will be open for donations, appointment cards for which are at the Red Cross office, from 9 to 11:30 in the morning, and 1 to 3:30 in the afternoon on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Delta county needs 260 donors, it has been pointed out. And lastly, by request, thus far, only 53 persons have volunteered to donate blood.

Mrs. C. L. Riegel is chairman of the drive in Delta county, assisted by a corps of volunteer unit chairmen and workers.

Munday, Haas Fire 132s For Halfway Lead

Reading, Pa., July 24 (AP)—Rod Munday, York (Pa.) Country club pro tied for the lead with Young Freddy Haas of New Orleans in the $15,000 Reading open said today he's more worried about the weather than his competitors.

This may sound strange for a comparative golfer unknown who has to face another 36-hole challenge by the 10 leading pro circuit money winners plus a host of other brilliant shotmakers.

But he said it: "I'm playing the greatest golf of my life and if the weather doesn't get sultry hot and it doesn't rain, I'll win this tournament."

Munday and Haas, too, for that matter—have been shooting brilliant golf. Both have 12-under-par 132s at the halfway mark. Both shot 65's opening day—the Berkshire Country club course record—and came back with a five-under 67 yesterday.

Munday explained that when the sun beats down his hands sweat and he has "no confidence in his grip."

"I've got to have fair to moderate weather to play top flight golf," he said.

Haas played perfect golf until the 15th hole of the second round. Then the long driving pro boy-cried. He did it again on the 16th out but managed to hang on for that needed 67 and a tie for the lead.

Still pressing the pace is E. J. Dutch Harrison, Little Rock, Ark., defending champion. Harrison stumbled with a double bogey on the 14th hole yesterday and fell from the previous day's four-way tie for the lead to second at 65-69-134.

The other member of the opening day front running quartet, calm Johnny Palmer, held on at 135 in the company of Herman Keiser, Springfield, Mo., and Bobby Locke, South Africa.

Olympic Torch Is En Route to London

Simpson, Switzerland, July 24 (AP)—The Olympic torch was moving across Switzerland today on the human chain that is carrying it from Athens, Greece, to London.

The torch was passed from Italy to Switzerland last night and is expected to cross into France shortly after midnight tonight.

QUICK TRIP PLANNED

Washington, July 24 (AP)—President Truman plans a quick trip to Independence, Mo., to vote August 3 in the Missouri Democratic primary. The White House said today plans are incomplete but Mr. Truman probably will make the trip by plane leaving the capital Monday, August 2.

Rift Closed Up In Michigan GOP

Dornbos of Grand Haven, withdrew also.

Attorney General Eugene F. Black, who was the storm-center of a week of bitter party warfare, refused any comment on the developments.

Black, who with former Gov. Alex J. Groesbeck was backing Skillman's candidacy, threw a bombshell just a week ago when he announced his office was launching an investigation into alleged irregularities in the Republican's campaign fund gathering.

The furore this raised was climaxed last week with the state central committee demanding Black's resignation or removal by Sigler. At the same time, Sigler promised a rip-roaring campaign against the "would-be-bosses" who, he said, were seeking to regain control of the party.

Too Hot For Feet
This all was getting a little too hot, apparently, for Sigler's two potential opponents.

In withdrawing, Skillman referred to his reluctance "to subject myself to the vituperation and abuse which would be heaped on my head."

Keyes, in his withdrawal statement mentioned "a bitter primary campaign."

Meanwhile, one of the four Democratic candidates for the gubernatorial nomination slipped out. He was John J. Mc Ginty of Bay City.

This left the race for the Democratic nomination a contest between G. Mennen Williams of Detroit, former liquor commissioner; Victor E. Bucknell, Vicksburg attorney; and Burnett J. Abbott of Albion, one-time state budget director.

Democratic candidates for lieutenant governor are John W. Connolly of Detroit and Victor Targonski of Wyandotte.

Before the deadline for withdrawals yesterday, Tom Backer of Levering withdrew from the contest for the Republican nomination as state senator from the 29th district. This left Senator Otto W. Bishop (R-Alpena), the incumbent, and Frank Andrews of Hillman to fight it out for the party's nomination.

Bandits Lock 23 Up In Refrigerator As They Rob Cafe Safe

Clifton, N. J., July 24 (AP)—Twenty-three persons, "stored" in a refrigerator while a bandit looted a restaurant, thawed today while the owners counted their losses.

A lone gunman locked eight employees of the Howard Johnson restaurant in a big refrigerator yesterday while he waited for someone to open the safe.

As tradespeople appeared, delivering to the restaurant, they joined the employees—one by one—in the refrigerator.

Finally, Milton Turner, the owner, appeared and the gunman forced him to open the safe. Turner then joined the others in the refrigerator.

The losses were not immediately determined.

The bandit was considerate, though, said his victims, who were in "a serious state of shock" when police liberated them five hours later.

He tossed them all the coats he

Soviets Say Berlin Is Part Of Russia

New Permanent Currency Issue Ordered

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

Berlin, July 24 (AP)—Russia acted today to issue a new permanent money for eastern Germany and Berlin. And she repeated her claims that Berlin is economically part of the Soviet zone.

Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, Russian commander in Germany, decreed issuance of the new currency last night. It will replace the temporary tender issued a month ago.

The western powers issued a formal statement saying they were "carefully studying the new Soviet ordinance" and would "take appropriate measures."

Meanwhile the Russians continued their harassing tactics along the air lanes used by the western Allies to supply blocked Berlin. The British said Soviet planes were conducting bombing practice in the corridor between Berlin and Hamburg. The previous day they charged the Russians with three other flight violations.

Despite Soviet actions the British-American air shuttle continued at a fast pace. Yesterday American planes carried 1,511 tons of fuel and food in 256 flights. The British flew 146 sorties.

In Washington, Gen. Lucius D. Clay said last night that the U. S. soon will double the capacity of the air fleet shuttling supplies to Berlin.

Clay told newsmen before boarding a plane back to Berlin, that the air lift increases will make it possible to deliver to the western sectors of the city enough food and fuel to see the inhabitants through next winter.

Slim Margin Given Newfoundland Vote For Joining Canada

St. John's, Newfoundland, July 24 (AP)—Newfoundland has voted to join Canada—but there is some doubt that Canada will accept it.

Incomplete but apparently conclusive results from Thursday's referendum show 72,756 votes for union with Canada and 69,550 for self-government.

Despite the vote, the Canadian government is expected to wait at least a week before commenting on the results. Canadian Prime Minister W. C. Mackenzie King said several months ago that the people of Newfoundland must indicate beyond misunderstanding that they wanted to join Canada before the Dominion would accept the Rocky Island as a province.

The close vote left the question open whether Newfoundland's 320,000 inhabitants had fulfilled that condition. Canadian spokesmen at Ottawa said the answer may depend upon whether the opponents accept the referendum decision with good grace or actively continue to fight against union with Canada.

Before the Christian era, a glove was given to the purchaser of land, taking the place of title and deed to the property.

Peninsula Highway Paving Jobs Start; Detours On M-28

Lansing, July 24 (AP)—The start of two new highway construction projects Monday in the Upper Peninsula and completion of another were announced today by the state highway department.

Paving operations will start next week on 5.98 miles of M-28 east of Racine to the junction of M-221 in Chippewa county. Completion of the project in September will afford an all-paved highway between Sault Ste. Marie and Newberry. A detour will be maintained through Brimley.

Construction of 4.82 miles of pavement on the relocation of US-2 between Bessemer and Wakefield in Gogebic county also will be started Monday. The project will be completed in November.

The department has completed the construction of 5.6 miles of concrete pavement on the US-41 relocation west of Nestoria in Baraga county. The highway will be reopened to traffic within two weeks.

Ramspeck Services Set For Wednesday

Funeral services for Pvt. William F. Ramspeck, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Ramspeck, 327 North 16th street, whose body was returned recently to the United States for reburial in a U. S. military cemetery in New Guinea, will be held at St. Patrick's church at 8:30 a. m. Wednesday, with the Rev. Fr. M. Melican officiating. Burial will be in Holy Cross cemetery.

Military services will be conducted at the graveside by veterans' organizations of Escanaba. Detailed arrangements will be announced later.

Private Ramspeck died August 5, 1944, in Aitape, New Guinea, the victim of scrub typhus. He entered service as a volunteer March 18, 1943, receiving his training at Fort Jackson, S. C., and Camp Pickett, Va., before going overseas in March, 1944.

He was born in Escanaba Feb. 6, 1925, and attended Escanaba and St. Joseph high schools.

In addition to his parents, he leaves a brother, Robert, and a sister, Edna Mae.

Radio Music Piped To Detroit Trolley; 90 Percent Like It

Detroit, July 24 (AP)—Weary straphangers still were swinging and swaying today after the city transit system's first experiment with music on a trolley.

Radio tunes were piped into a Woodward avenue streetcar Friday. The music is supposed to make life aboard an overcrowded trolley more pleasant and may become a permanent part of the city's noises.

Naturally, one of the tunes was "Clang, Clang, Clang Went the Trolley."

Street railway officials said 90 per cent of the passengers liked the idea.

There were some suggestions, however, that an improvement in service might be better than harmony.

Motorman John Stewart listened to the music, then muttered: "I'd rather hear the ball game."

Seagull Craft Race Held This Afternoon For Bissell Trophy

Four Escanaba craft in the seagull class were scheduled to compete in the annual Bissell trophy race from the Escanaba yacht harbor to Gladstone and return this afternoon.

They are "Ah-Mie" owned by Lois Sawyer and skippered by Cliff Weir, the winner in 1947; "4-Wheel" belonging to John Young; Jim Moran's "Ga-Goo" and the "Minx" owned by Ted Stura and Al Hallock.

Next event on the schedule for the seagull skippers is the first elimination race for the Gust Asp trophy Wednesday evening. They will race again next Saturday and two additional races will be held to determine the trophy winner.

The ultimate champion will represent the Escanaba Yacht club in the Green Bay races at Fish Creek Saturday, August 14.

CHICAGO TO MACKINAC

Chicago, July 24 (AP)—A record 62 boats were set to unfurl sails today for the world's longest fresh water marathon, the 41st annual Chicago to Mackinac Island yacht race.

A forecast of weak winds made it likely the yachts would have slow going, at least in the early part of the 331-mile journey up Lake Michigan.

Six to 10 mile an hour variable winds were predicted by the U. S. Weather Bureau for the lake Saturday. Fair weather was forecast.

Starting at 1 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, the craft in the six divisions will shove off in 15-minute intervals with the Class D cruisers leading off, Class C, B and A cruisers will follow in that order.

The universals will head for open water starting with Class B at 2 p. m. and Class A at 2:15.

Escorting the yachts, to give aid in case of accidents or storms, will be the Coast Guard ice-breaker Mackinaw and the cutter Frederick Lee.

The first boats to finish are expected to reach Mackinac late Monday or early Tuesday with the tail enders probably straggling in later Tuesday.

CONVICT JUMPS

Jackson, (AP)—Returning to his southern Michigan prison cell after breakfast Friday morning, lifer Eddie Kayne jumped 50 feet from the fourth floor of the institution to a concrete floor below. He was injured critically. Police said the 46-year-old Detroit had attempted suicide.

CROSSING CRASH FATAL

Wallace Or War, New Party Says

inated today by Fred Stover, who announced his resignation as president of the Farmers Union in Wallace's home state of Iowa in order to work for the new party.

Taylor's name is to be placed before the delegates by Larkin Marshall, Negro newspaper publisher from Georgia.

Wallace-Taylor placards were stacked high in a convenient ante-room. They awaited a demonstration that might not rival in length the 30- and 40-minute shows for Wallace's major party opponents. It was expected, however, to produce more real delegate-in-motion noise than either.

Wallace and Taylor marched forth to what even their best friends told them was a losing battle. They carried a flag of peace in one hand and the banner of civil rights in the other.

The platform on which they move into November's ballot battle declares that through "good faith" discussion the United States and the Soviet Union can "find areas of agreement to win the peace."

Neither Wallace nor Taylor was willing to repudiate any Communist voter support.

Both said emphatically they are not Communists.

But the Communist issue continued to plague the new party as it went about its organization business, spurred by Howard's punch-line keynote address delivered to the tune of properly-spaced shouts of approval and boos.

"Johnny (West) and I planned this for three or four months," he said. "We wanted to beat hell out of him (Niebel), and if they'd given me a little more time, we'd have wiped 'em all out, those . . . at the reformatory."

"We really went to the reformatory the other day to get Red Phillips (a guard), but we couldn't find him. We killed the Niebels about 1:30 a. m. I went to the door, which Niebel answered, and told him our car was broken down and asked if I could use the phone. He let me in, and I covered him with my gun."

"Then Johnny came in and covered him while I went upstairs and got the women. They were all fully clothed, and we drove right through Mansfield with them. We made them undress in the car, and throw their clothes out along the road."

"We finally got to the cornfield, and told them to walk in. There was no criminal attack on the women, and we didn't slug anybody. He (Niebel) told the others not to offer any resistance, and they didn't."

"I told them to line up. Then I shot him, then the girl and then the woman."
